International Recording Artist Stacy ‘Elevated’ Wilson to Release Third Single on March 8

Orlando, FL (March 7, 2024)—Gospel recording artist Stacy “Elevated” Wilson will release her third Single, “I AM Blessed” on International Women’s Day (Friday, March 8).

A native of St. Catherine, Jamaica, Stacy started singing at age 11. Growing up, she would belt out songs by Mariah Carey, Whitney Houston and CeCe Winans. At age 14, she participated in various community stage shows, youth clubs and school events.

“I often thought of being a professional singer someday,” Stacy said. “Before I immigrated to the U.S. in June 2005, I rededicated my heart to the Lord and vowed to serve Him for the rest of my life.”

Decades later, after serving as worship leader for different churches throughout Central Florida, she stepped out in faith and released her first Single, “You Chose Me,” on February 11, 2022.

This contemporary gospel song opened the door to two nominations: “Best New Artist” and “Female Artist of the Year” for the 2023 Tampa Bay Gospel Awards.

On September 3, 2023, she released her second Single, “JEHOVAH,” featuring the legendary Jamaican saxophonist Dean Fraser! Stacy debuted this gospel song (mixed with a Reggae beat) later that month at the “Taking Back the Land” Christian parade in Belmopan, Belize.

Her versatility has landed her a nomination as Multicultural Artist of the Year for the 2024 Florida Gospel Music Awards.

With the release of her third Single, “I AM Blessed” from her upcoming album (“The Promise”), Stacy has proven her ability to “cross” cultural lines with her unique style and angelic voice.

Her songs, released through EMT Records in Orlando, are available on all digital platforms, including Apple Music, iTunes, Spotify, Amazon, Deezer and YouTube.
